London hosted the INTA 2026 Annual Congress

Beyond being the capital of England, from May 2 to May 6, London transformed into the global capital of Intellectual Property. The ExCeL London, located at the Royal Victoria Dock, served as the official venue for the INTA 2026 Annual Congress.

The event hosted nearly 10,000 professionals specializing in trademark protection, intellectual property, and various business sectors. This significant turnout underscores that the annual meeting organized by INTA continues to grow in importance and prestige within the legal and corporate spheres. Today, it stands as one of the events offering the greatest business opportunities for all participants.
